

Memorandum of Understanding

Between Optio and [Program name]

This memorandum describes how Optio and [Program name] will work together so that students in [Program name] can earn high school credit for the work they already do there. It is written in plain language on purpose. If anything here is unclear, ask before you sign.

In the rest of this document, "the Program" means [Program name].

2. What this arrangement is

Optio Academy is a private K-12 school accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACS WASC). It awards credit for real work that a student documents, in place of hours spent in a classroom.

Under this arrangement, a student who takes part in the Program and records their learning in the Optio app earns credit on an official Optio Academy transcript. Optio sends that transcript to the school the family names. The Program does not become a school, does not grade anyone, and does not change how it runs.

3. The credit

Subject	Credit per term	What earns the credit	Term dates
[Subject]	[0.5]	[What a student does in the Program during one term to earn the credit]	[Start month] to [end month]
[Subject]	[0.5]	[Add one row per subject. Delete rows you do not need.]	[Start month] to [end month]

One term of weekly participation with weekly learning evidence counts as one semester class. Optio may add a subject or adjust a credit amount if both parties agree in writing.

4. What Optio does

- Sets up the Program inside Optio and gives the Program one enrollment link to share with families.
- Enrolls each student and collects parent consent through that link.
- Provides the Optio app, where students record their learning evidence.
- Has a licensed Optio teacher review each student's evidence at the end of the term and award the credit.
- Issues the official transcript and sends it to the school the family named when they enrolled.
- Answers questions from students and parents about enrollment, the app, and the credit. The contact for families is [Optio contact name, email].

5. What the Program does

- Shares the enrollment link with families and tells them about the credit option.
- Runs the Program as usual. Optio does not ask the Program to grade anyone, write lesson plans, or change its curriculum.
- At the end of each term, opens its roster in Optio and confirms which students took part. This takes a few minutes.
- Tells Optio if a student stops attending partway through a term.
- Follows the accreditation wording rules in section 8.

6. What students and families do

- Enroll through the link. A parent signs off in the same form and names the school the transcript should go to.
- Take part in the Program as they already do.
- Record learning evidence in the Optio app at least once a week. Evidence can be [a photo of a worksheet, a short video of practice, or a few sentences about what they worked on].
- Recording the evidence is the student's responsibility. A student who does not record evidence for the term does not receive credit for that term. There is no penalty and no mark on any record.

7. Price and payment

- Optio charges the Program [$100] for each student enrolled in a credit class for one term.
- The Program sets its own price to families and collects it. The Program keeps any amount above Optio's fee.
- Optio sends the Program one invoice [at the start of each term] listing the enrolled students. Payment is due within [30] days of the invoice date.
- If a student withdraws within the first [14] days of a term, Optio does not charge for that student.

8. How to describe the accreditation

The accreditation is what makes the credit worth something, so there are a few firm rules about how it is described.

- The credit comes from Optio Academy. The Program may say: "Students can earn high school credit through Optio Academy, a private K-12 school accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges."
- The Program does not describe itself as accredited, and does not use the commission's logo. Optio is licensed to display it. Partners are not.
- Wherever the Program mentions the accreditation in writing, it includes the commission's full name, address, and website. The line at the bottom of this document is exactly what to paste.
- The Program sends new wording about the credit or the accreditation to Optio before it goes live. A quick read takes a day.

9. Student information

- Optio holds all student records. The Program does not collect, store, or forward student records on Optio's behalf.
- Optio shows the Program its own roster of enrolled students so the Program can confirm participation. Optio does not share a student's evidence or grades with the Program.
- A student's work is visible to the student, their parent, and the Optio teacher who reviews it. Optio does not sell student data and does not use it for advertising.

10. How long this lasts and how it ends

- This arrangement starts on the date of the last signature below and continues until either party ends it.
- Either party may end it with 30 days' written notice. Email counts as written notice.
- Students already enrolled in a term finish that term and receive their credit. Optio's fee for those students still applies.
- Optio may end the arrangement at once if the Program describes the accreditation in a way that breaks section 8 and does not correct it within 7 days of Optio asking.

11. About this document

This is a working agreement between two independent businesses. It does not create a legal partnership, a joint venture, or an employment relationship, and neither party may make commitments for the other. Both parties intend to follow it. Any change to it is agreed in writing by both parties. Sections 7, 8, and 9 continue to apply to students enrolled before the arrangement ends.
